Competition Format and Rules

Format et règlement des compétitions

As of MON 15 JUL 2024

Olympic Competition Format

The weightlifting competition at the Olympic Games Paris 2024 comprises five events for men and women.

Men: 61kg, 73kg, 89kg, 102kg, +102kg

Women: 49kg, 59kg, 71kg, 81kg, +81kg

The competition format for each category consists of a single phase (final). Each competition consists of two parts: the snatch and the clean & jerk, with generally a 10-minute break between the two. Each athlete may take three attempts at individually chosen weights in both the snatch and the clean & jerk, and the best results achieved (in kilograms) are added to a total which determines the ranking. Each athlete is allowed one minute (or two minutes, if making consecutive attempts) between the calling of his or her name and the beginning of the attempt.

The rules of lifting and for the adjudication of attempts are the same for men and women.

The Olympic Games competition is individual and, even if a team classification is calculated, no medals are awarded to teams.

Differences between the IWF World Championships and the Olympic Games

The main difference is that while in the International Weightlifting Federation (IWF) World Championships, titles and medals are awarded also for the two individual lifts, the snatch and the clean & jerk, in the Olympic classification, only the aggregate of these two, i.e. the total result counts.

The other important difference is in the number of entries: in IWF World Championships, each country may enter a maximum of 10 men and 10 women with a maximum of two athletes per bodyweight category, while in the Olympic Games, each NOC has a specific quota obtained in the qualification process, with a maximum of three male athletes and a maximum of three female athletes (maximum of one athlete per bodyweight category). Athletes who started in snatch, but have no valid results, can compete in clean & jerk at the world championships, but this is not allowed at the Olympic Games because medals are awarded only for the total results of the snatch and the clean & jerk.

Changes since the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020

The events for women and men have changed, four events have been removed from the programme.

The competition format has changed to have only one group per event.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Each athlete has three attempts to make on both the snatch and the clean & jerk, which can be on different weights.

The barbell is loaded progressively. The athlete requesting the lightest weight lifts first.

The weight of the barbell must always be increased by multiples of one kg increments.

One minute is allocated to each athlete between the calling of his/her name and the beginning of the attempt.

When an athlete attempts two lifts in succession, he/she is allowed two minutes for the succeeding attempt.

Competition Format and Rules

Format et règlement des compétitions

As of MON 15 JUL 2024

Three referees adjudicate each lift and pass their decision, if accepted or not. The validity of the lift is decided on majority by the referees. Each decision made by the referees is immediately analysed by the Jury, and they can decide to reverse it. After this, the decision is final and irrevocable. The athlete with the highest total result will be the winner.

Calling Order

The following four factors listed in priority must be considered when calling the athletes:

1. The weight of the barbell (lightest weight first)
2. The number of the attempt (lowest number first)
3. The sequence/order of the previous attempts (the athlete who lifted earliest is first)
4. The start number of the athlete (lowest first)

Tiebreak Rules

If there is a tie, the athlete who made the total first will win. Ties are broken as follows:

1. Best result - highest first
2. If the tie remains, best Clean & Jerk result - lowest first
3. If the tie remains, best Clean & Jerk result's attempt number - least number of attempt first
4. If the tie remains, previous attempts - least number of attempts first
5. If the tie remains, lot number - lowest first

Penalties/Disqualification Rules

There are no penalties in the sport of weightlifting and disqualification would only apply in case of violation to the rules.

Protests/Appeals

If the referees'/jury's decision is challenged or in case of disagreement within the jury, video playback technology (VPT) is used to resolve the issue. The athlete/team can challenge the referees' or jury's decision by submitting a challenge request to the nearest technical controller (using the challenge card).

Sport Terminology

As of MON 15 JUL 2024

Term	Definition
Attempt	Each athlete has three attempts for the Snatch, and three for the Clean & Jerk, at weights requested and specified by the rules. In order to qualify for a total, the athlete must be successful in at least one attempt for each movement.
Attempt Board	An electronic scoreboard which displays: the name, NOC code and bib number of the athlete just called, the number of the attempt and the weight to be lifted. This board also incorporates the Referee decision lights and the timing clock indicating the passage of the time allocated to the athlete.
Bib number	Athlete's number during the competition. In each competition, a bib number is allocated to each athlete, according to the progression of the athletes' lot numbers.
Bodyweight	The weight of the athlete registered by the officials at the Weigh-in.
Challenge	The challenge gives athletes the opportunity to ask for their own lifts to be reviewed by the jury using the Video Playback Technology (VPT). One challenge per athlete (per event) is allowed by presenting the "Challenge Card" to the Technical Controller.
Chief Marshal	The Chief Marshal manages the athlete's cards during the competition. The Chief Marshal may accept or refuse changes made by the athlete/coach on attempts.
Clean & Jerk	One of the two types of movements/lifts which constitute the Weightlifting competition. A two-phase movement, during which the athlete first pulls the barbell with both hands to shoulder height, performing a squat and then standing up (Clean), then jerks the weight overhead in a fast movement finishing with arms fully extended and an upright body (Jerk). The Clean & Jerk is performed in the second half of the competition.
Drawing of Lots	A lot number is allocated at random (generated electronically) to each participant. The lot number determines the order of Weigh-in and lifting during the competition.
Good lift	An attempt judged as correctly completed by at least two of the three referees.
Introduction	The competition begins with the introduction of athletes. After the introduction of athletes and prior to the introduction of Technical Officials, the timing clock starts a countdown of ten (10) minutes. A further one (1) minute countdown is given prior to the first attempt.
Jury	The Jury consists of five members (plus one reserve). The Jury President decides which Jury members will be on duty for a competition. The Jury has the authority to reverse a decision made by the Referees.
Lot number	A unique number drawn (electronically) for each athlete, which determines the order of Weigh-in and lifting during the competition.
No lift	An attempt judged as unsuccessful by at least two of the three referees.
Platform	A square platform of 4m on each side, with a height 100 mm, made of a solid non-slip material on which the athletes must execute the lifts.
Protocol	A document registering the progress of the competition, indicating each successful and unsuccessful lift, the total result, the officials, and the records achieved.

Referee	Four referees, including one reserve, are appointed to each event to adjudicate the attempts performed by the athletes. Their majority or unanimous decision - shown by an electronic referee light system - will define the validity or the failure of a lift. The Referees' audible and visible signal will allow the athlete to replace the barbell on the platform at the end of a lift.
Referee Lights System	An electronic device used by the Referees to signal to the athlete that he may replace the barbell on the platform, and to pass their decision on the validity of a lift.
Snatch	One of the two types of movements/lifts which constitute the Weightlifting competition. A continuous, swift movement in which the athlete lifts the barbell with both hands from the platform to extended arms' length above the head finishing with an upright body. The Snatch is performed in the first half of the competition.
Speaker	The Speaker moderates the competition, calling the athletes by name and NOC to the platform to perform their attempts, and announces the validity or non-validity of each lift. The speaker gives continuous information on the competition to both the participants and the public.
Technical Congress	A meeting held with NOC representatives, IWF officials and Competition Management two (2) days prior to the first competition day.
Technical Controller	The Technical Controllers check the athletes' outfits, the calling order and the accuracy of the load on the barbell, keep order in the warm-up area, etc.
Timekeeper	A Technical Official appointed to operate the timing clock in accordance with the rules.
Timing Clock	An electronic timekeeping device - usually part of the Attempt Board - displaying the time allocated to the athlete to perform the attempt in a countdown mode starting from one (1) or two (2) minutes.
Total	A figure specified in kilogrammes being the aggregate of the best successful Snatch result and Clean & Jerk result achieved by the athlete. The total decides the classification/ranking of the athletes.
Video Playback Technology (VPT)	VPT is technology to review the referees'/jury's decision if challenged or in case of disagreement within the Jury.
Warm-up (room/area)	An area separated from, but adjacent to the competition stage, in which athletes warm up before being called to perform their lifts, and to which they return after each attempt.
Weigh-in	A process that begins two (2) hours before each event and lasts one (1) hour, during which the athletes entered to that event appear before a panel of officials and are weighed. Athletes who are under or over the limits of their indicated category will not be allowed to compete.
